

Details about winner of Bead Dreams 2012 Predator

The winner of Bead Dreams 2012 became Predator by Guzel Bakeeva from Russia. On her blog she wrote that this win was very unexpected for her and at first she couldn't believe it really happened. But she is very happy to be best in show of Bead Dreams. Also Guzel told a story how she found and create this beautiful necklace.

The necklace Predator is dedicated to the memory of famous designer Alexander McQueen. One of his work was the inspiration for Guzel to make this necklace. Necklace consist 5 parts. Swarovski bicone beads is an excellent scales, its possible to notice how skin of snake changes to parts of butterfly wings, then to fish scale, became large scale of lizard and all this together looks like a real predator.

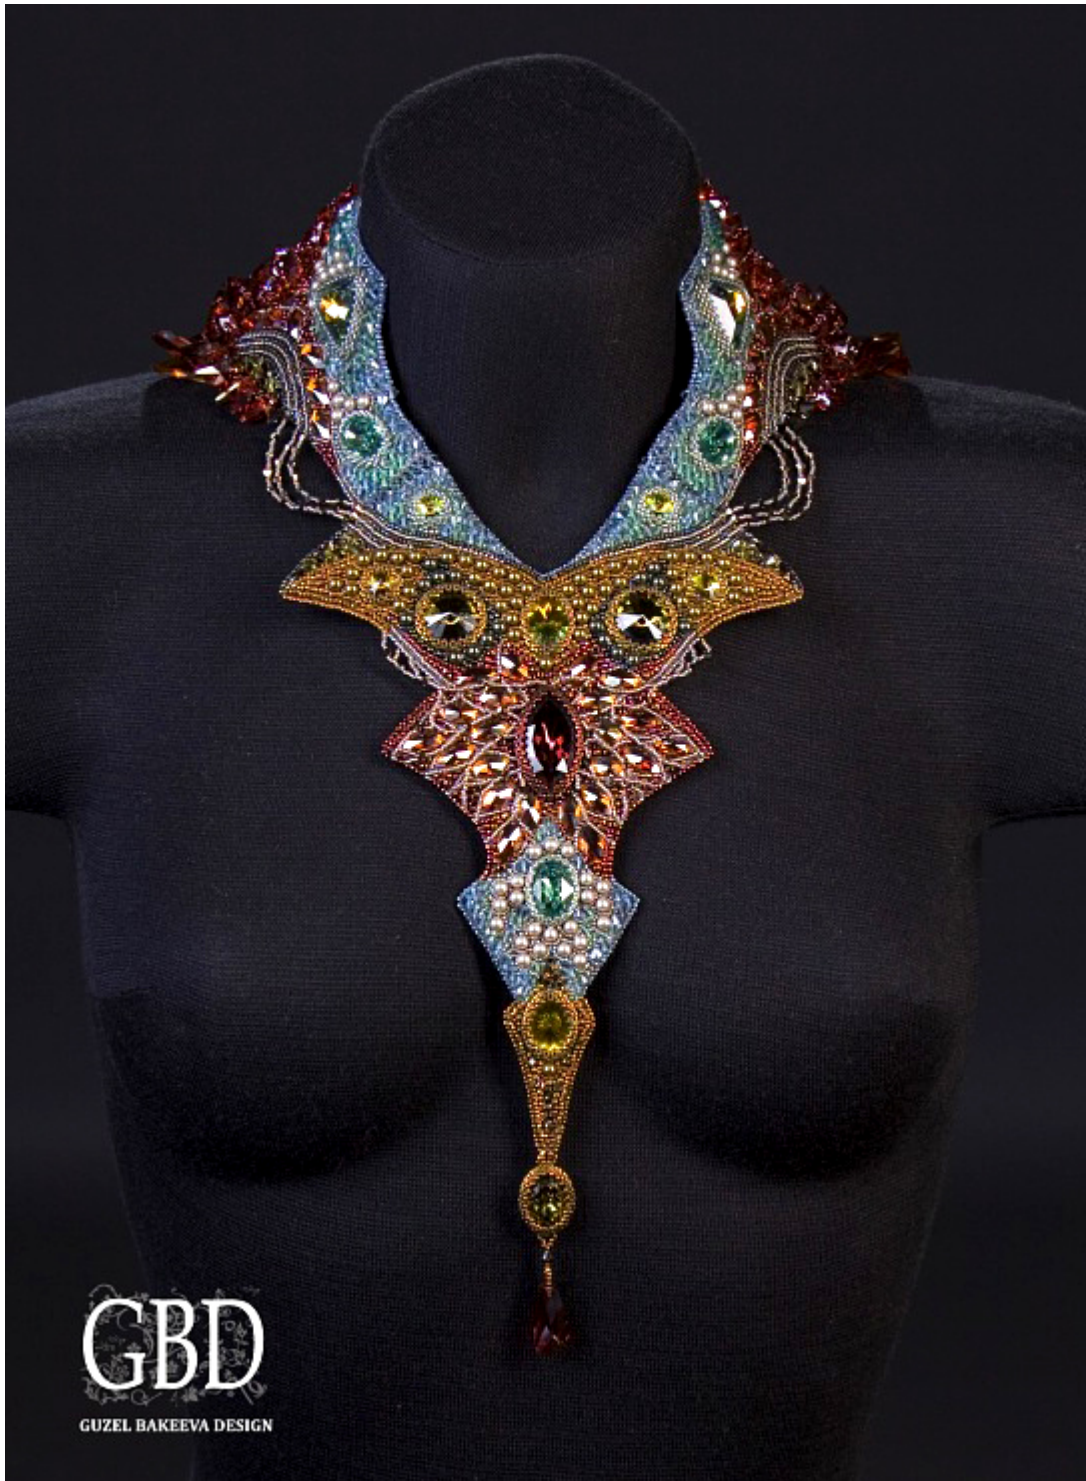

This is the inspiration of Guzel
