A large, intricate knot diagram constructed from red and purple beads. The knot is a complex, multi-component structure with several loops and crossings. Blue arrows are drawn along the path of the knot, indicating the direction of travel. The beads are arranged in a grid-like pattern, with red beads forming the main body of the knot and purple beads forming the crossings and some of the loops. The watermark "BEADSMAGIC.COM" is visible across the center of the image.
